ABOUT FACE — The Famous Fun Feud Goes On!

Roach's "About Face" Offers Riotous Comedy of Army Life

(Advance Reader)

"About Face," with William Tracy, Joe Sawyer, Jean Porter, Marjorie Lord and Veda Ann Borg in the top stellar roles, is another Hal Roach comedy dramatizing life in the army service camps. It was directed by Kurt Neumann from an original screenplay by Eugene Conrad and Edward E. Seabrook and will have its first local showing at the ..... Theatre on .....thru Favorite Films release.

Briefly, the story of "About Face" tells of the hilarious feud between William Tracy and Joe Sawyer, which began a long time ago and which has blazed into open warfare as the film opens. It pictures the colorful exploits of Sergeant Doubleday and Sergeant Ames on leave from camp, as they run afoul of, and are taken in hand by, a bevy of sixteen dazzling debutantes.

Among the many laugh-packed scenes in "About Face" is an automobile parking-lot feud that assumes near-riot proportions, with fenders, head lamps and running boards flying through the air with the greatest of ease. This melee brings out the army, the navy and the marines and brings the picture to a surprising smash climax.

The chic gowns displayed in the film by Marjorie Lord, Jean Porter and Veda Ann Borg were created by the famous Hollywood designer, Royer.

William Tracy and Joe Sawyer portray the roles of a pair of zany packed production hit, "About Army Sergeants in the laugh-Face", which will open..... at the.....Theatre.
